STAVROS REKARIS

REFERENCE

Having worked on several projects that have been both managed and constructed by Mr Stavros Rekaris, I have no hesitation in stating that it has been a pleasure to work with him.

Stavros has always demonstrated a professional approach towards his work, at times under extremely difficult conditions.

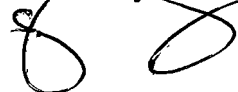

One project in particular, being a large industrial development, required close attention to design and integration of the client's separate contracts, and initially proved a challenge that was successfully overcome to achieve a terrific outcome.

Stavros has always provided a competent knowledge towards each project, from a hands on management style and direction of the company.

The building industry has the reputation of bringing out either the best or the worse in people, and I can honestly say that Stavros Rekaris has been one that our practice has enjoyed a terrific relationship with, and one that we hope continues well into the future.
