To Whom It May Concern:

Workplace Standards Tasmania as a Division of the Department of Justice recently requested the building owners of the premises we occupy at Rosny Park to provide an additional 300 square metres of office accommodation to meet our expanding business requirements. The building owners acquired the services of H.S. Rekaris & Associates Pty Ltd to design and oversee the construction of the premises.

As a major stakeholder in the project, we were anxious to have the construction meet our requirements with minimal disruption to our normal business operations. The professional conduct of Rekaris & Associates enabled us to achieve our requirements to a high level.

Rekaris & Associates met us on site on more than one occasion to discuss and formalise our requirements. These meetings were conducted in a professional manner and the emphasis from Rekaris & Associates was to meet our business needs. We were provided with up to date drawings and any suggested amendments were dealt with promptly and to our satisfaction.

Rekaris & Associates dealt with all planning issues with local authorities and the subsequent management of contractors from the start to completion of the project within the deadline provided.

The finished product suits our requirements completely and the extension blends in with the existing structure to such an extent that it is difficult to distinguish the addition as anything but part of the original structure. We would have no hesitation in recommending H S Rekaris & Associates Pty Ltd to prospective clients who have similar type projects to undertake.

Yours sincerely
